

Education Support
Partnership

Improve and expand your team's skills

Training and Professional Development

What can Training and Professional Development do for you?

Our comprehensive range of smart training and development workshops can help to strengthen and improve the performance of your staff.

Training and professional development is a key factor affecting job satisfaction in any industry, but we know that it can be especially difficult to provide in the education sector due to tight budgets and time constraints. That is why we have created these sessions to help tackle the most common and impactful issues for education staff, making it as simple and effective as possible for you.

Our workshops have been developed using our powerful research data, collected over 30 years. We identify current and consistent themes in the education sector and model our training solutions around our in-depth knowledge of the best approaches used to tackle key issues.

“ We have been delighted with the impact participating in this work has had on our school.”

Angela M. Graham, Headteacher
Usworth Colliery Nursery School

Our expert training and professional development courses are...

Smart Leadership

Enables leaders and those aspiring to leadership to develop their skills and become more effective in their role.

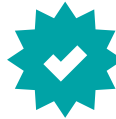

Smart Relationships

Enables staff to improve the quality of their own professional relationships, increasing personal and organisational effectiveness.

Smart Work

Enables staff to be more productive by utilising practical strategies and approaches to use their time and energy more efficiently.

Smart Transition

Will enable those facing redundancy to think positively about their future opportunities and plans, building resilience, energy and creativity.

Smart Coach

Will enable managers to encourage their team members to develop confidence, resourcefulness, skills and belief in their own decision-making.

Smart Change

Enables managers and leaders to improve their ability to manage the change process in their organisations, and enables staff to reflect on their attitudes towards change.

Smart Communication

Develops individual communication skills that will also enhance relationships and sustain a more positive working environment.

Smart Survive & Thrive

Provides an opportunity for Newly Qualified Teachers to reflect on their own wellbeing during their initial year and to consider strategies that will support them to be even more effective.

Smart Resilience

Enables staff to increase their own wellbeing and resilience leading to the improved effectiveness of the organisation as a whole.

To find out more about these sessions and pricing call
0207 697 2767

Who are we?

Education Support Partnership is the charity for the education workforce.

By using our training and development programmes, you are supporting the only charity dedicated to improving the health & wellbeing of the entire education workforce. Any surplus from this programme along with individual donations help to fund our free charitable services.

Our free 24-hour helpline for education staff gets around 30,000 calls a year from people working in education who have reached breaking point.

We also offer grants to education staff and their families who are struggling financially so that they can get on with their lives and be at their best.

Get involved

We need you to help us spread the word and make sure we are supporting everyone who needs us. You can campaign with us, volunteer for us, share your story or speak to your local school. Simply get in touch at info@edsupport.org.uk or visit edsupport.org.uk for more details.

Support us

We rely on the generosity of our supporters to continue our vital work. If you'd like to support those working tirelessly to educate future generations, please make a donation today. Just £7 allows a counsellor to answer a helpline call to someone in distress.

To make a donation go to edsupport.org.uk/donate or call us on 0207 697 2750.

You can learn more about our work at edsupport.org.uk or by calling 0207 697 2750

Supporting you to be your best

Education Support Partnership is a registered charity No. 1161436

